Review Course Offered by: J. Randall Gardner, JD, LL.M., MBA, CPA, CFP®

Randy Gardner is a professor of tax and financial planning and director of the Certificate in Financial Planning Program at the Henry W. Bloch School of Management. Gardner earned a BA, cum laude, from Harvard University. He earned his JD and MBA degrees from the University of Kansas, and his master of law in taxation from the University of Missouri- Kansas City. He is also a graduate of Georgia State University's Master Teacher Program.

Estate planning is an increasingly complex area of practice that requires specialized skill and education.

The Estate Law Specialist Board, Inc., an attorney-run subsidiary of the National Association of Estate Planners & Councils, is the only ABA-accredited program for certification of an attorney as an Estate Planning Law Specialist (EPLS). Specialization is the future of practicing law and, as specialization increases, it will benefit lawyers and the public.

To obtain board-certified status, an attorney must meet the following requirements:

- ✓ Five or more years practicing as an estate planning attorney during which at least 1/3 of the attorney's practice is devoted to estate planning
- ✓ 12 or more hours of continuing legal education in estate planning topics per year for the three years preceding application
- ✓ Verification of professional liability insurance coverage
- ✓ Recommendation from at least five colleagues who are not with the same firm as the applicant
- ✓ Passing a comprehensive exam designed for estate planning practitioners

Attorneys who become Board-certified under this program demonstrate a high level of professionalism and commitment to the concept of specialization. This program is currently the only program, other than certain state bar association programs which are only for residents of their particular states, accredited by the American Bar Association to Board-certify attorneys as Estate Planning Law Specialists.
