

The AEP® Designation Council Nomination Program Explained

Estate planning councils affiliated with the National Association of Estate Planners & Councils have the privilege of nominating qualified individuals to apply for the Accredited Estate Planner® (AEP®) designation through the “AEP® Council Nomination Program.” Your council’s participation affirms the core value that brings all members of NAEPC together – excellence in estate planning. Please consider this letter your council’s invitation to participate.

We are pleased to offer a new sponsorship program as an incentive to hold an AEP® informational event in a format that fits your schedule and vision (even for virtual events!) so that information about the AEP® designation can be shared with those members who have an interest, or those whom your council may like to nominate. For those councils that choose to host an event “Sponsored by the AEP® Designation” NAEPC will provide a $750 sponsorship. Our administrative staff is available to share how other councils have chosen to host successful events and to share creative ideas for hosting a virtual or in-person event!

The only graduate level, multi-disciplinary credential in estate planning, the AEP® designation is awarded to professionals who meet requirements of education, experience, knowledge, and professional reputation and holding the AEP® designation helps clients and colleagues understand the designee’s commitment to the collaborative approach to estate planning. Individuals must meet strict requirements to be considered for a council nomination, and applicants must meet stringent qualifications and commit to ongoing recertification requirements. A partial review of the qualifications follows:

- Credential · active license or certification in the disciplines of accounting; insurance/financial planning; legal; philanthropic; or trust – holding one or more of the following credentials: ATFA, CAP®, CFA, CFP®, ChFC®, CLU®, CPA, CPWA®, CSPG, CTFA, JD (active law license is required for practicing attorneys), MSFS, and MST**
- Experience · the minimum experience requirement for council-nominated candidates is ten years devoting at least 1/3 of one’s professional time to estate planning
- Commitment to Education · maintain a minimum of 30 hours of continuing education, 15 of which must be in estate planning related topics, during the 24 months prior to applying and every two calendar years thereafter

It’s important to note that the AEP® Council Nomination Program is not your members’ only pathway to obtain the AEP® designation. Members, including those who do not yet have the minimum 10 years required for a council nomination but do have at least 5 years of experience and are willing to meet additional requirements***, are always welcome to self-nominate. Your council’s nomination, however, streamlines the application process, reduces the application fee by 50%, and acknowledges those within your membership who are also recognized within your community as exemplary estate planners. Councils that participate help their members distinguish themselves among peers, clients, and within the council membership itself. Active designees are required to maintain a membership in an affiliated local council and most often when having received a council nomination, this council will be yours so there may be an additional benefit of member retention.

Please complete and return the commitment form found on the reverse of this page to susan@naepc.org. We’ll be in touch soon thereafter to review the program requirements, answer any questions your leadership may have, and make sure you have a supply of all the necessary materials to host this event.

*Applicants applying with CAP® only, must have successfully completed MSFP 615 Advanced Estate Management and Planned Giving

**Special requirements must be met and approved by the national office before applying

***Self-nominating candidates with 5 – 15 years of experience must successfully complete two graduate courses provided through The American College
