

NAEPC History, Mission & Vision

Formed in 1962, the National Association of Estate Planners & Councils (NAEPC) is a national organization of affiliated estate planning councils and professional estate planners focused on

EXCELLENCE IN ESTATE PLANNING

by serving estate planning councils and their credentialed members and delivering exceptional resources and unsurpassed education to councils and professionals alike.

NAEPC was created, and exists today, with the core belief that a client's estate planning needs are best served by a team of qualified professional advisors.

It is our belief that the primary and most effective means for networking among the various disciplines is at the local council level.

We also believe that the educational opportunity found within the over 275 estate planning councils affiliated with NAEPC provides their estimated 30,000 individual members with exceptionally high-quality education that has contributed not only to the profession as a whole, but also to the overall strength and viability of NAEPC and estate planning councils across the country.

Getting Started

Joining NAEPC is fast, easy, and inexpensive!

- Councils with < 40 members, $115/year
- Councils with 41 - 100 members, $175/year
- Councils with 101 - 250 members, $375/year
- Councils with 251- 400 members, $525/year
- Councils with 401+ members, $575/year

No per-member fee, dues are invoiced each calendar year.*

New councils are required to submit a brief application (found at www.NAEPC.org or obtained at councilservices@naepc.org). NAEPCs primary requirement is that the council admit the fundamental disciplines to membership. In addition, councils are asked to supply a copy of the current bylaws, list of officers, and an Excel membership listing* at the time of application.

Advantages of Affiliation

Lending a Hand To Your Board of Directors

We know your board of directors works hard, and that your professional administrator does too! NAEPC provides all affiliated councils with helpful resources to make those jobs easier, like:

- The NAEPC Monthly Minute, a helpful publication for council leaders, delivered directly to your officers via email each month, that contains administrative updates and best practices
- An opportunity to attend Council Leadership Day, held each year at the Advanced Estate Planning Strategies Conference, or a Regional Leadership Day event, held in the Spring/Summer months - events that provide leadership development and an opportunity to learn from other councils
- Access to referral lists that address commonly-noted challenges and sample documents
- Speaker Access - NAEPC provides two options to help you fill your annual programming calendar
- Webinars suitable for use as council meetings

Serving Your Members

NAEPC believes that your members are your own! By the virtue of your council's affiliation, your members can take advantage of a variety of opportunities, including:

Education

Whether your members choose to attend the Advanced Estate Planning Strategies Conference or a webinar hosted as a part of the Robert G. Alexander Series, they are guaranteed the lowest possible registration fee and will enjoy the benefit of dynamic, high-caliber, multi-disciplinary presentations.

Value Partners

Companies that have agreed to provide NAEPC members with a discount on their specific program, service, educational opportunity, etc.

Publication

The NAEPC Journal of Estate & Tax Planning is available online without password restriction and contains a wealth of cutting-edge information provided by thought leaders in the estate planning community.
